

“ON” Framework 12

The More You Give The More You Get

What the framework states:

If you want to get a woman opening up and making the conversation come more easily, you must first open up to her, and give more than you're getting.

What this means:

When talking to a girl, take the initiative to introduce new “emotions” or threads into a conversation. Don't wait for her to tell you its OK.

Big Ideas:

A Lot of Time She's Not Good At It, And She's Waiting for You to Take the Lead

Making the Effort Yourself Snaps Her Into
And Takes You From a Dry Conversation
to a Fun One Very Quickly

It Encourages Her to Express Her
Personality

You Gain Rapport Quicker and Easier the Less Formal You Are

Before You Ask An Intimate Question, You
Need to Reveal Something Intimate First

Always Give Her Just Enough to Grab Onto Something

When You Push The Line, Your Showing
Her You're Not Afraid to Be Real Around
Her. Being Real Around Someone is a Very Attractive Quality

It Gives Her a Chance to Relate Back

Example:

If you are talking to a girl and the conversation is in a neutral “PG” realm where neither of you have really let your guards down around each other, bring something into the conversation that allows her to feel like she’s gotten a sneak peak inside your head.

THINK: How Can I Give Just a Little More Than What They Asked of Me?

Putting this idea into action

“I hate old people, lets go find some old people and people beat them up. I went out on a date with an old woman once. It was so awkward. I met her at a lounge, it was dark, and apparently I was very drunk. We sit down for dinner, and listen I'm not an ageist or anything, but I'm not talking like oh she was 40 I was 35... I'm talking menopausal old woman. The worse part was, at the end of the date, I kind of feel like I have to kiss her, because you know she paid for dinner..."

The Reality of What I Just Said.

I brought a pretty unexpected story into the conversation that showed a comfort in straying into "forbidden" conversation territory.
